

Mr. Cedric Lamar McGhee

Words to Live By: “What we get, we can make a living; what we give, however, makes a life.” – Arthur Ashe

The above quote from Arthur Ashe reflects Mr. Cedric McGhee’s guiding principles. His influence on the growth, development, and sustainability of our community can be seen and felt through his involvement in and contributions to Science and the Arts.

In addition to being recognized as one of the Parity Top Ten African American Males 2025, Mr. McGhee’s many mentoring and volunteer activities have resulted in numerous awards and honors, including Co-Captain of the Colonel White HS for the Arts Drumline (1990-91), Ohio State University NSBE Oratorical Contest Winner (1993), OSU Minority Engineering Program (MEP) Humanitarian Award (1996), Dayton NAACP Youth Empowerment Award (2016), Dayton NAACP Perseverance and Resolve Award (2022), NSBE Lifetime Member, and NAACP Silver Life Member.
